

Enhance Leadership and Performance

16 Nov 2017 (Thursday) | 9:00 am to 5:15 pm

Kuala Lumpur Regional Centre for Arbitration
Bangunan Sulaiman, Jalan Sultan Hishamuddin
50000 Kuala Lumpur

We are pleased to announce Monash University's endorsement for the Bar Council's Women Lawyers Conference ("WLC") 2017.

This event is a first for the Bar Council, and focuses specifically on the challenges faced by women in the profession.

Monash University is making a substantial financial contribution to support the event, which will be used to subsidise the registration fees for participants.

"The Malaysian Bar recognises the challenges that women lawyers face, and the crucial role that they have played, in the legal profession.

The Malaysian Bar's history is replete with the contributions and achievements of women who have been trailblazers, defying convention to reach great heights.

The profession is no less challenging today, as we face increasing competition in terms of career choices that young people are making, and we want to do all we can to retain talent within the profession. For this to happen, we must adapt and learn to excel beyond the pressures of contemporary legal practice and modern life. We are grateful to Monash University for aiding us on this journey. "

- George Varughese, President of the Malaysian Bar

WLC 2017 features women speakers who will provide insights on a range of topics, including:

Competence-Focused Management for Women Lawyers

This session focuses on how non-verbal communication affects perceptions of competence and leadership. Learn easily implemented strategies to power up your dealings with clients, colleagues, and superiors.

Crossroads: Recalibrate for Professional Advancement

Each of us faces crossroads in our lives. Many women with demanding careers believe that they "can't have it all". Understand how to marshal resources, seek help and advice, and learn from the experiences of others, to come to terms with difficult decisions we need to make when it comes to balancing career and personal aspirations.

Striking Out on Your Own: Challenges and Lessons

The AWL Baseline Study (2014) showed that many women lawyers strike out on their own to have more flexibility and control over their careers. Many more women leave legal practice to pursue completely different careers. Understand the challenges of the different career paths. Learn what you need to know to make it on your own.

Finding Your Niche: Female Perspectives

Are you happy with the practice you have, or do you think there is more for you out there? Do you wonder how people who have made their name in "niche" areas of law succeeded? Is there an area of law that you would like to move into but don't know where to start? Find out how, here.

Brand or Die

Technology has not just changed how we communicate and work; it impacts how women are perceived and how women influence others. This session is about understanding how to make technology work for women.

The Power of My Brain, Not the Length of My Skirt

This session summarises the issues, and the direction women lawyers can take to move forward in the legal profession. Have we become more empowered, and what obstacles do we still have to overcome?

Understand the challenges and rewards of legal practice and more, from women who have insight on how to make it work! Learn how to win and retain clients, get management tips, and find out how to make wise career choices.

Learn all this and so much more, at the Women Lawyers Conference 2017.
